Business Challenge

Client has a large asset base in the form of hoardings, advertising banners and the likes with over 30,000 such assets. The company was using a manual process of recording sales, depreciation and returns on these assets using excel spreadsheets. Manual processing and management of the large number of assets spread over 35 locations became cumbersome and also caused a variety of productivity and efficiency related issues.

As all data related to the company assets was stored on excel spreadsheets manually, retrieving any data at any given point of time was extremely challenging and time consuming. In order to run the business efficiently, the management sought for an integrated and an automated ERP system that would help in recording all assets-related data at one place for easy access and retrieval. The management strongly felt the need for a flexible ERP system that will streamline the process of management of company's assets and ensure zero time delays.
